I noticed in the January - April 2017 Responses to Suggestions, someone requested fruit in the vending machines. The response, the same as a few other vending machine requests was that you would be talking to your vending machine company regarding the fruit. It is now March 2019. I have attended MTI since January 2018 and have never seen any fruit in any one of the vending machines. It is disappointing that there is so much junk in the machines at a school where students are working to increase their brain power. Especially a school that offers courses in the medical profession. Yogurt, bananas, oranges, apples, carrots, celery, any of these healthy choices for a snack would be better than 20 kinds of potato or tortilla chips or candy. Additionally, Americans are FAT and in a school environment, what better place to cultivate healthy nutritious options.	We have reached out to the vending machine companies, but they will only stock what sells. We will reach out again.
Academics
I suggest for the medical program we be given the choice to wear white or black for our undershirts or shoes. Also maybe have a few recommendations for someone to hem the scrubs for really short people.	Thank you for the suggestions. At this time white has been chosen to be the most consistent with the desires of medical facilities. We will continue to ask our affiliates at our advisory meetings. Regarding the hem of the scrubs; thank you for the suggestion. The healthcare department will research local alterations and see if we feel comfortable recommending any.
There should be an option or tab under each course section named NOTES. Maybe it should be placed under the NAVIGATION tab so students can jot down quick notes or reminders for themselves in each course. I use the Moodle app on my phone half of the time and when I don't have a pen and paper around, I want to be able to place notes under my specific course at the time.	There is this capability in Moodle. For directions, please see the file in the suggestion box answers entitled: Suggestion Answer - Creating Notes in Moodle.pdf
